OUTLINES.

The result of the search for the missing launch of the battleship Minnesota in Hampton Roads yesterday was the finding of the body of Coxswain Dodson; the inquiry into the disaster has begun.——At Boise, Idaho, yesterday the attorneys for W. D. Haywood, in a desperate effort to save his life, made a terrible attack on the motive of Harry Orchard and under their lashings the man who confessed to murdering 18 men wept and wailed; he declared that he committed his crimes as an atheist, but professed repentance and his belief in a merciful God who would forgive him if he told the truth.——At Charlotte yesterday Franc H. Jones, defaulting teller of the Charlotte National Bank, submitted to three counts, but sentence was deferred.——Six hundred mutinous Russian sailors are confined at Sebastopol and a wholesale outbreak is threatened.——Officials are to leave Washington Sunday to locate the immigrant stations at Charleston, Galveston and New Orleans.——Secretary of the Navy Metcalf returned to Washington yesterday from Hampton Roads, but is unable to confirm any of the rumors about the cause of the loss of the launch of the Battleship Minnesota.——The General Electric Company and the Edison Electric Company, of Schenectady, N. Y., with plants valued at $35,000,000 and employing 15,000 men, have complained to the Interstate Commerce Commission that it costs them $134,609 a year to do switching which the common carriers should be compelled to do.——Senator Overman, of North Carolina, was in the party which left Washington last night with the body of Senator Morgan, of Alabama; President and Mrs. Roosevelt sent a handsome floral offering.——New York markets: Money on call, steady, 2 to 2 1-2; ruling rate, 2 1-2; closing bid, 2; offered at 2 1-4; spot cotton, steady, 13.15; flour, steady, with a better demand; wheat, firm; No. 2 red, 97 elevator; corn, easy; No. 2, 61 1-2 elevator; oats, steady; mixed, 49; turpentine, quiet, 60 to 60 1-2; rosin, firm.

There are said to be 1,000 different religions in the world. Nevertheless some people haven't been able to get much of any of the lot.

In vetoing the two cent passenger fare bill passed by the General Assembly of New York, Governor Hughes runs the risk of being classed among President Roosevelt's "reactionaries."

The State of Oregon has sent 16 beautiful young ladies to travel in the eastern part of the United States in order to make Oregon famous. They are more liable to make men foolish.

Speaking of hard luck, contemplate the handicap under which Senator Knox has to struggle by being loaded down with an endorsement for President by a gang of looters like the Republicans of Pennsylvania.

President Carroll D. Wright, of Clark College, says President Roosevelt's strongest cussword is "By George." He doesn't have to cuss, however, for he has a way of making other folks do the cussing.

The "old offenders" in the police courts probably are considering that it is getting more respectable to be hauled up now, as they can say oft and on that Mr. Auto know-better was a fellows defendant for fast speeding.

Some of our North Carolina Republican exchanges are making much over the discovery of a few Democratic rascals holding municipal positions. "Misery loves company" even if the company is small and hardly worth welcoming by the big scamps.

One New York prophet predicted that the world would come to an end last Monday, and another has fixed the date in 1914. The last prophet has seven years in which to laugh at the expense of No. 1 in having the world to pay no attention whatever to his date.

Tom Watson says in his magazine that Marion Butler's name is loathed in North Carolina. Most any Georgian can tell you that Tom Watson's name is a stench in the nostrils of Georgians and intensely disagreeable to the probosis of people as far away as San Francisco. Both should keep quiet to avoid being offensive.

It is said that former Judge W. S. O'B. Robinson, of Goldsboro, has sent Republican State Chairman Spencer B. Adams a letter in which he "championed the cause of Marion Butler" and "jumped all over Adams." In fact it is said Judge Robinson's letter "literally burned the mails." He can ladle out mighty hot stuph when he gets to sizzling.

Mrs. Carrie Nation was fined $25 in the police court in Washington yesterday on the charge of creating a disturbance at a saloon Wednesday night. She paid the fine and said it was the 29th penalty that had been imposed upon her by the courts of the country.

TRIAL O[illegible]

Hearing in Sensational Case on Monday—Bank of Parkton Chartered. Education in Cumberland. Power Development.

(By Associated Press.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 13.—In the case of Dr. D. S. Rowland, charged with the murder by poison of Engineer Charles R. Strange, of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, the chemist who has been since May 21st analyzing the stomach of Strange for traces of poison, reported this afternoon that no poison was found.

The prosecution tonight authorized a statement that the case against Rowland would be pushed anyway and circumstantial evidence be relied upon. The hearing will begin on Monday morning at 10 o'clock before a justice of the peace.

Dr. Rowland who a few days ago was released in Henderson where he had been on trial for the murder of his son by poison, none having been found in the boy's stomach, is in jail here. His wife who was Strange's widow of six weeks when she married Rowland, who attended Strange on his death bed, is here to be tried as an accessory before the fact of her husband's murder.

Raleigh, N. C., June 13.—The Bank of Parkton, Robeson county, received a charter today, capital $10,000 subscribed and $100,000 authorized, the principal incorporators being J. B. McCormick, Neill McNeill and others.

From Cumberland county come reports to the State Superintendent of public instruction of three elections just carried for special tax to improve the public schools. State Superintendent Joyner remarked in commenting on this news that "The work moves on apace in Cumberland under the guidance of a most efficient county superintendent, Supt. McBryde, and an excellent county board of education.

The Chamber of Commerce and other business men's organizations of Raleigh have appointed large committees to go before the Raleigh Board of Aldermen and insist that something be done to meet the conditions under which the Raleigh Electric Company proposes to extend its present street railway system about 3 1-2 miles including an important belt line. The street car company proposes to expend about $125,000 and only asks that the city adjust the streets involved to the proper grades for placing the track.

The Phoenix Construction Co., which has the contract for the completion of the Buckhorn Falls electric power plant for the Schenactady Trust Co., successors to the Cape Fear Power Co., are pushing the work with all possible speed, but report a distressing scarcity of labor. They have about 150 laborers at work but need not less than 200. The plant when completed will furnish electric light and power for Fayetteville, Sanford and Goldsboro and possibly other towns of that section. The affairs of the plant are still in the hands of the Federal court pending the final payments by the Trust Company of the purchase price by the sale last September through Receivers Belvin and Maxwell.

THE FIRM DISSOLVES.

Williams Brothers to Go Out of Business—Agent Appointed.

THE EFFORT ABONDONED

Norfolk "Shoo-Fly" Will Not Be Extended From Goldsboro to Wilmington — Conference Held With Mr. Kenly Yesterday.

After a conference with Fourth Vice President John R. Kenly, of the Atlantic Coast Line, yesterday afternoon, the Transportation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce to which was recently referred the matter of inducing the railroad officials to extend the Norfolk "shoo-fly" train through from Goldsboro to Wilmington, decided to abandon the effort. The committee was headed by President J. A. Taylor, of the Chamber of Commerce, and after the conference Mr. Taylor stated that Mr. Kenly was prepared to show that the train would be operated at a loss and that in view of the unsettled condition of railway legislation in general throughout the country the committee could not consistently urge the matter. He stated, however, that Mr. Kenly met the committee very frankly and that at some future time he thought the added accommodations or something better could be afforded on the Wilmington and Weldon branch of the system.

Mr. Taylor at the late meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to consider the bill pending before the Legislature reducing passenger fares in this State was the champion of the theory that it was manifestly unjust to call upon the transportation lines for better service and at the same time to reduce their source of revenue and he in common with the general public felt the weight af this argument keenly at the conference with Mr. Kenly yesterday. Mr. Taylor stated that the railroads were now fighting hostile legislation without regard to service in four States and the committee could make no showing against a proposition like this. He was disappointed at the result of the conference of course, but he is an optimist and believes that in the near future railway conditions will so adjust themselves that the effort to have this train or another of equal accommodations can be renewed with success.

The public will feel the refusal of the Atlantic Coast Line for this added service keenly, for they had every reason to believe that with the concessions granted the railroad in the matter of the recent agitation for a union depot here that the extra train would be put on without question. It would be of inestimable advantage not only to the traveling public but to the business men of the city in the added mail service that would have been given. Its advantages to the banks of the city who have a large business up this road would have been great and it is believed that it will not be long until the request is renewed.

Colored Women to the Farm.

Sallie Smith, a negress, came to the city yesterday on the steamer "City of Fayetteville." She fell in with Octave Smith and Lou Bell Davis, two denizens of Lattimore's alley, and had a drink with them at their habitation. That was the last she knew until she woke up late in the afternoon and found her money and a wig which she wore missing. She applied to Justice Bornemann for relief and Deputy Sheriff Piver arrested the women. Lou Bell Davis could not be connected with the theft and the Smith woman could only be held for disorderly conduct. In default of $5 fine, she was marked up for the county farm for 30 days.

Cots for the "Rest Home."

The committee in charge of the Rest Home at Carolina Beach have decided on account of the cool weather to postpone the opening for a few days longer and in the meantime would be glad to have 12 more cots with which to furnish the cottage. The plan is to accommodate ten boys one week and ten girls the next and so on through the Summer. Mr. William Hall and family will have charge of the cottage for the committee and the charity will be dispensed interdenominationally.

MR. LEO LEOB DEAD.

Died Early Yesterday Morning in Columbia, S. C.—Lodge Notified.

A telegram yesterday evening to the Wilmington Lodge of Elks conveyed the sad intelligence to many frineds in this city that Mr. Leo Loeb, the well known New York traveling man who spends much of his time in Wilmington, had died in Columbia, S. C., where he had been ill with fever for some days. The remains will be shipped from Columbia to his home in Albany, New York, at 6 o'clock this morning. Mr. Loeb was about 38 years of age and was quite well known throughout the South. Many will hear of his death with much sorrow.

Mr. Loeb traveled for Mendelson & Sons, the widely known manufacturers of concentrated lye and was accounted one of the best salesmen in the South. He made Wilmington his permanent headquarters for a number of years and had his home at The Orton, in this city.

Retail Dealers to Meet.

The fifth annual convention of the State Retail Merchants' Association will be held in Greensboro June 18th, 19th and 20th. Mr. Henderson Cole, one of the directors, and other Wilmington merchants will attend. "The Young Man in Business" will be the subject of an address before the Association by Mr. D. L. Gore, of this city.

TRAINING INSTITUTE

Sunday School Workers of All Churches on Atlantic Seaboard at Wrightsville.

THE SESSIONS BEGIN TO-DAY

Dr. and Mrs. Hamill With Other Prominent Educators Have Arrived. North Carolina Conference Quartette to eLad Singing.

The third annual session of the Carolina International Training School for Sunday School workers of all churches in the Carolinas and along the Atlantic seaboard will convene in the large auditorium of the Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, this morning at 9:30 o'clock and will remain in session with morning and afternoon sessions through Thursday of the coming week. While the attendance is not expected to be large before the week-end the instructors for the most part are here and a large number of visitors will be here before the sessions are well under way.

Professor H. M. Hamill, D. D., of Nashville, Tenn., superintendent of training work in the Southern Methodist Church and chairman of the International Department of Education, arrived yesterday afternoon and will be dean of the school. Mrs. Hamill, his wife and a primary specialist of note, accompanied him and will give special instruction to primary and junior teachers. They came yesterday on the Seaboard Air Line train and went down to the beach in the afternoon. Dr. Hamill gives Old Testament Bible drills along the lines of the Sunday School lessons and will conduct a daily helpful conference.

Mrs. Antoinette Lamoreaux, of Chicago, Ill., an eminent lecturer on child study, was expected yesterday evening and will prove a helpful agency in promoting this line of the work at the institute. Miss Hilda North, of Washington, D. C., who is pleasantly remembered from last season cannot come this year but in her stead will be Miss Francis Hungerford, also of the Washington City schools. She will give daily demonstrations of drawing and blackboard work in connection with imparting instruction to the old as well as to the young. President J. A. B. Scherer, of Newberry College, is expected during the week and will lecture on church history and missions. In addition to these there will be a large number of local speakers, including an address by Mr. W. M. Cumming next Tuesday on the subject, "The Sunday School Officer". Dr. Scherer's especial subject will be "The Hand of God in History."

A special feature of the institute will be the singing which will be by the North Carolina Conference Quartette composed of Mr. R. M. Phillips, editor of the Newbern Sun, Newbern, N. C.; Rev. A. J. Parker, pastor of Bladen Street M. E. Church, this city; Rev. J. H. Frizzelle, of Beaufort, N. C., and Rev. Euclid McWhorter, of Maxton, N. C. Mr. Phillips and Rev. Mr. Frizzelle arrived yesterday and are guests of Rev. Mr. Parker at his home on North Fifth street. Tonight the Quartette will be special guests on an excursion on the steamer Wilmington, given by Bladen Street M. E. Church and leaving the dock at 8:15 P. M. All are invited to take the trip and listen to the quartette on this occasion.

The institute opens this morning at 9:30 o'clock and the people of Wilmington are most cordially invited. The subjejct this morning for Dr. Hamill will be "Genesis in a Nutshell" while Mrs. Hamill will discuss "The Beginners." Mrs. Lamoreaux will discuss the development of child life. In the afternoon "The Adult Class" will be treated by Dr. Hamill and Mrs. Hamill will speak on "the Missionary Sunday School."

As to Stamped Envelopes and Paper.

Postmaster Wallace has been notified by the Department that the U. S. stamped envelope agency will be moved from Hartford, Conn., to Dayton, Ohio, effective July 1st. In consequence of this change there will be some unavoidable delay in furnishing special request envelopes and the postmaster asks all who require an immediate supply to give their order before the 22nd of June. There will be a slight increase in the cost of stamped envelopes.

AN APPRECIATIVE PUBLIC.

When Platt & Haar made their first announcement of their intention to close Friday afternoons, some doubted that the proprietors of The Little Store were wise in taking this step. It took but a few days, however, to decide if the public would appreciate this desire on the part of the above firm to give their employees a half holiday each week. The best and most substantial proof can be seen at The Little Store, Friday mornings and Saturdays, when and where shoppers show their appreciation to the fullest extent. Happy Week is still on. Extra smiles for Friday and Saturday. **

—Mr. Preston Cumming, Jr., and Miss Margaret Bridgers, of Wilmington, were among the attendants at the Broadfoot-Pemberton wedding at Fayetteville Wednesday evening. Mr. Cumming was one of the groomsmen and Miss Bridgers was one of the two maids of honor.

SAD TRAGEDY IN ROBESON

Aged Lady, Her Mind Unbalanced, Committed Suicide By Burning Herself to Death Shortly Before Day Yesterday.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., June 13.—A most horrible tragedy occurred two miles east of here early this morning in which Mrs. Francis Phillips, aged about seventy years, lost her life. Mrs. Phillips' mind has been unbalanced for some time, and she had several times threatened to end her life.

Two weeks ago, it is said, she attempted suicide by drinking concentrated lye, and later was taken from the railroad track just before the approach of a train. Arrangements had been made to take her to the asylum at Raleigh this morning, but when Deputy Sheriff Higley and Mr. E. D. McNeill went after her about 10 o'clock, it was found that he had left the house while other member of the family slept. Search was made at once and her dead body was found in the public road about half a mile from the home, with her clothing burned entirely off. A box of matches was found near by, and all indications point to deliberate self destruction. Mrs. Phillips resided with her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Busson.

She had been watched up to about 3 o'clock this morning and must have escaped after that hour, the officers going to the home a few hours lafer, and finding her gone. Search was instituted with the revelation as stated. It is thought she lighted a match, applied it to her clothing and in her agony ran up the road as the matches were found about 100 yards from where the body lay.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The Sampson Democrat says: "The Clinton Fire Company contemplates attending the convention and tournament of the State Firemen's Association to be held in Wilmington August 6th to 9th."

—Building permits issued yesterday, R. H. Reville, five-room house to cost $550 at Second and Marstellar. Mrs. Lena Wessell rebuild 4-room house at cost of $250, on Eighth between Nixon and Taylor streets.

—A charming little play entitled "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will be presented by the Girls Club and the Girls Friendly in the hall of the Good Shepherd, on Sixth street this evening at 8:30 o'clock. The music is very pleasing and will be much enjoyed by those who attend.

—Capt. Earl I. Brown, in charge of the corps of United States Engineers for this district, returned yesterday from Beaufort where he held a hearing on the petition of certain parties at interest who want the draw in the Coast Line bridge over Trent river at Pollocksville made wider.

—Sheriff Cowan and his deputies are preparing to get out after delinquent Schedule B. taxpayers. The list includes many of the professions, amusement enterprises, brokers, agents, etc. These taxes are payable the first ten days in June and the sheriff is required by law to proceed to collect the tax after the expiration of that time.

—The schooner Jos. P. Cooper, 288 tons, Capt. Beauchamp, arrived yesterday from Philadelphia with cargo for the Springer Coal Company. The schooner Carrie A. Bucknan cleared yesterday for Hayti with cargo of 367,000 feet of lumber consigned by S. & W. H. Northrop. Both vessels are by C. D. Maffitt.

—St. Andrew's Presbyterian Sunday School will give its annual excursion to Southport and out to sea on Tuesday of the coming week on the steamer Wilmington. The boat will leave the city at 9:15 A. M. and return in the afternoon. The fare for the round trip is only 50 cents and a delightful trip is in store for those who go.

—An opportunity is offered to spend a delightful day at the beach in the excursion which will be run today on the steamer Wilmington by the Ladies' Aid Society of Fifth Street M. E. Church. The steamer will leave at 9:15 A. M. and the fare for the round trip will be only 25 cents. Refreshments will be served at city prices and a treat is in store for all who take the outing.

—In the presence of a large number of friends of the family impressive funeral services were conducted at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon over the remains of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Williams, who passed away on Chesnut street Wednesday morning. The services were by Rev. R. W. Hogue, rector of St. James' and the interment was in Oakdale cemetery.

Free Trips to Jamestown.

Now that the buildings and exhibits of the Jamestown Exposition are complete, several young ladies have gone to work to secure a free trip and money for expenses to the "big show" at the expense of The Morning Star. They are meeting with most encouraging success and have no doubt that they will secure the required number of subscribers.

—R. E. Lee, Esq., of the Lumberton bar, is in the city on professional business. He is accompanied by his little son and they are guests at The Orton.

BONDED WAREHOUSE

Proposition to Establish Giant Enterprise Here Backed By Cotton Association.

HON. E. D. SMITH IS COMING

Will Accompany President C. C. Moore, of North Carolina Division to Wilmington on June 27th. Appointment for Address.

A letter from President C. C. Moore of the North Carolina Division of the Southern Cotton Association, says that he expects to be in Wilmington on Thursday, June 27th, and that he will at that time present to the business men of the community the bonded warehouse holding plan, lately so strongly recommended at Birmingham, Ala., and since that time frequently outlined in the newspapers of this city and the State. Considerable progress in establishing these holding warehouses in the interior of the State has been made and now the executive committee of the Association desires to move for the establishment of warehouses at the ports in order that the plan in its entirety may be effective.

Mr. Moore in his letter professes some timidity in going before the business men of the community on a subject of such magnitude and has invited Hon. E. D. Smith, of South Carolina, to accompany him on the mission. Mr. Moore refers to Mr. Smith as the "Gatlin Gun of the Palmetto State" and those who heard the distinguished man at the recent banquet of the Merchants' Ascsociation in this city will not gainsay the aptness of the appellation. Mr. Smith is a man of eloquence, thoroughly enthused over the work of the Cotton Association and presents his subject in brilliant manner. Mr. Smith has promised Mr. Moore to be here on the 27th and has written Mayor Springer to make an appointment for him to speak at some public place where he can be heard by the general public on this all-important question to the South. Mr. Moore suggests an appointment at night and urges that the ladies be invited to hear the speaker on this occasion. Mayor Springer and the commercial bodies of the city will doubtless arrange for the place of speaking within the next few days and it is hoped that a large crowd may hear the speakers on this occasion. Mr. Moore says that a bonded warehouse must be established in Wilmington and will place the subject before local business men in a business-like manner. The establishment of the warehouse would be an important enterprise for this city and it is expected that local capitalists will take hold of the subject not only for the direct but for the indirect benefits that will accrue.

DOCTORS AT MOREHEAD

State Medical Society Concludes Its Annual Sessions.

A number of Eastern Carolina physicians were here yesterday returning from the annual meeting of the State Medical Society at Morehead City. The sessions adjourned yesterday to meet next year at Winston-Salem. Dr. J. Howell Way was elected president; J. E. Stokes, Salisbury; J. A. Turner, High Point, and W. H. Dixon, Beaufort, vice presidents; Charles Mangum, Chapel Hill, orator:; T. R. Little, Greensobro, essayist; S. E. Koonce, Wilmington, leader of debate. Councilmen for eastern districts were announced as follows: Dr. Whitaker, Kinston; Dr. Russell, Wilmington; Dr. Albert Highsmith, Wilson; Dr. William Highsmith, Fayetteville; delegates to American Medical Association, Drs. Highsmith, Thomas, Crowell; alternates, Drs. Rose, J. Akerman, E. R. Russell.

One of the notable papers of the session was by Dr. Howard Kelley, of Baltimore. Others were by Drs. Highsmith, Fayetteville; L. B. McBrayer, Asheville; Pendleton, Henderson; Royster, Raleigh. Dr. McBrayer's annual oration was one of the features of the entire session. Resolutions of sympathy were telegraphed to Dr. P. L. Murphy, of Morganton, who is critically ill.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds filed for record yesterday: William Hall and others trustees to Richard Hall, for $1 and other considerations, property at northwest corner 12th and Meares, 33x165 feet. Peter Griffin and wife to James Loftin, for $200, east side of Seventh, 165 feet south of Dawson, 33x165 feet. Mrs. James S. Worth, guardian, to A. Shrier and J. M. Solky, for $2,500, cottage on Wrightsville Beach. Mrs. Mary M. Johnston to Geo. O. Gaylord, for $1 and other considerations, east side Dickinson, 201 feet south of Fanning street, 30x68 1-2 feet. Charles W. Norwood and others to Fannie S. Norwood, life estate in property left by late J. G. Norwood.

Graduating Exercises at Hospital.

Handsomely printed invitations have been issued as follows: "The Board of Managers of the James Walker Memorial Hospital in Wilmington invites you to be present at the graduating exercises to be held in The James Walker Memorial Hospital Monday evening, June seventeenth, nineteenth hundred and seven at five-thirty o'clock.

THIRTY-FOOT PROJECT POPULAR.

It is extremely gratifying to note the unonmity with which North Carolina press seconds the efforts of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce in its movement for a thirty-foot depth of water from Wilmington out to sea. The editors have been quick to ctach on to the benefits which the whole State would get from a port with sufficient depth of water to make a "gateway" as it is known in commercial circles. They have observed that with deeper water it would make Wilmington in every sense of the word "a competing point" with lower freight rates in competion with those ports which have deep water and are open to the entry of the largest ocean steamships. The Inter-State Commerce has held, notably in the case of the Wilmington Merchants' Association several years ago, upon a complaint against discrimination in freight rates from Western points, that ports with deep water are entitled, under the nature of the case with a larger commerce to provide for, to a lower rate than ports which, by reason of insufficient water, have not the commerce which entitles them to be fully classed as competing points.

The movement at Wilmington to secure deeper water would make Wilmington a competing point, and the newspapers of North Carolina can easily see what that means to North Carolina. In reproducing an editorial from The Star on our deep water project, the Winston-Salem Journal approves it and says

"Two very significant events have occurred in the State during the last few days. The first of these was the launching of the movement at Wilmington to interest the entire State in the project to deepen the channel of the Cape Fear river between South port and Wilmington, to 30 feet, thereby making it navigable for the largest ocean steamers. It looks as if this movement will not be in vain and if it is not it will make Wilmington as good a harbor as Savannah and other ports that are now much more important than Wilmington. The object of the upper part of the State in securing this deeper channel, is to secure cheaper rates on freight, get ting a water rate to Wilmington, to which all parts of the State are, or will be, easily accessible.

"The second significant event referred to was the dedication of the new two mile bridge across the sound from Morehead City to Beaufort, which has a good harbor, giving the Norfolk and Southern Railway a seaport connection, and giving a large section of the State the advantage of water freight rates. New and greater possibilities are opened to Beaufort as a shipping point, especially since the inland waterway projject of Congressman Small now seems assured. If the people of that little city bestir themselves, making use of every opportunity presented to them and getting outside capital interested it will soon become a city of considerable importance.

"The South and Western Railway is expending large sums of money in the improvements of its line and it is not to be supposed that it will stop when it gets a good line built; it is going to get business for that line and that business is going to come by water and through Souhtport. The movement to secure from Congress an appropriation to deepen the channel of the Cape Fear as far up as Wilmington is attracting wide spread attention and it seems that there will be no doubt but that the entire North Carolina delegation in the next Congress will do all in their power for the measure. And it is not improbable that they will have strong support from the congressmen and senators from Tennessee, Kentucky and other States probably."

NEW RAILROAD PROJECT.

Rose Hill, Duplin county, si one of the towns on the Atlantic Coast Line that has its head up and is going forward. There has been considerable progress there and now the correspondent of the Kenansville Eastern Carolina News tells us this week that a new railroad project is on foot there. Says the correspondent:

"It is now being whispered that capitalists are intending to construct a railroad from here to Chinquepin and perhaps farther on to the Wilmington & New Bern Railroad. These things among others indicate the future of our town. What town has brighter prospects than ours?"

The proposed road would tap a fertile and well timbered section of Duplin county and extend into a portion of Onslow county. It is not stated who are at the head of the enterprise.

The correspondent goes on to speak of other enterprises at Rose Hill, among others the Atlantic Wagon and Vehicle Company, recently chartered to manufacture wagons, buggies and other vehicles. It is stated that the new company has purchased 140 acres of land from the Atlantic Coast Line for a factory site. Speaking of the plans of the company, this correspondent says:

"The property will be developed into streets and blocks by August 1st. On the railroad point a factory building 60x400 feet will be erected. It will be a fire proof substantial building covered and sided with iron roofing and siding will have the appearance of a regular brick building. This enterprise is in the hands of our very best business men and will be a great success from the start. The President is Maury Ward; Vice President, E. McN. Carr; Secretary and Treasurer, and Buisness Manager, L. C. Herring. Mr. Herring is a young man of most excellent business judgment and is no doubt the man for the place. He will be assisted in the work by an experienced foreman who understands every detail of the work. We feel assured that this new enterprise will double the population of our town in less than twelve months and will bring a desirable class of skilled workmen here as citizens."

It is gratifying to note the progress of Wilmington's neighboring towns.

GOVERNOR HUGHES' VETO.

Governor Hughes a few days ago vetoed the act of the General Assembly of New York requiring passenger fares to be reduced to two cents a mile on railroads in that State. The majority of the Legislature is Republican and by vetoing the act Governor Hughes goes boldly in the face of the Legislature and probably the public demand in New York State. The New York Times (Dem.) praises the independence and self-assertiveness of Governor Hughes and says:

"Governor Hughes' veto of the two-cent fare bill is likely to throw the assailants of the railways into the same consternation as overtook the stand-patters upon Mr. Taft's declaration for revision of the tariff. Both acts demanded moral courage. The people who want relief from the trusts remarked with satisfaction that Mr. Taft did not recoil from attacking them where they are weak, instead of assaulting them with speeches and futile prosecutions. And the 'reactionaries' whom Mr. Roosevelt disparages—including practically every man who has a property stake in the Nation's welfare—remark with equal satisfaction that Governor Hughes is a friend when substantial interests need defense. Such contributions as these go to show that the Presidential campaign issues are still in the making, and their final complexion promises to be different from the disturbing character they seemed to be on the point of assuming"

Governor Hughes probably failed to consult President Roosevelt, and next thing we hear will be that he will be listed at the White House as one of those "reactionaries."

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Dwelling in proximity to North Carolina is beginning to tell on the Richmond Times-Dispatch, which sets up that the "Richmond Blues" is next to the oldest military organization in this country. The fact is that the Charleston Light Dragoons holds this place, one Boston command ante-dating it—Charleston News and Courier.

—What does Senator Philander C. Knox stand for? Does he stand for Pennsylvania? Does a candidate for President, nominated by a political organization confessedly corrupt, gloating in shame, impudent and unblushing, deserve to be considered by self-respecting citizens, whether Democrats or Republicans, anywhere in the Republic? Is there no limit to the insult with which honesty and intelligence may be flouted?—Charleston News and Courier.

—A posthumous work of Walter Savage London is to be printed. It was written in 1812, and dedicated to "the President of the United States," and it was withheld from publication because, one of the critics to whom the publishers submitted it thought the President "the most contemptible wretch that ever crept into authority." James Madison was President at the time, and he has not been accounted an unworthy citizen or a bad or unpatriotic Pesrident. But official Britons did not love us just then—less than a generation after the war of the Revolution, and just at the beginning of another war.—Petersburg Index Appeal.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over 60 years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. How Clouds and Fogs Differ.

Clouds are bodies of moisture evaporated from the earth and again partially condensed in the upper regions of the air. Fogs differ from clouds only in one respect—they come in contact with the surface of the earth while clouds are elevated above our heads. When the surface of the earth is warmer than the lower air the vapor of the earth, being condensed by the chill air, becomes mist or fog. But when the lower air is warmer than the earth the vapor rises through the air and becomes cloud. Fog and mist differ in this respect—that mist is a fine rain, while fog is vapor not sufficiently condensed to allow of its precipitation in drops.

To Make Your Hair Curl.

A curious recipe for making the hair curl "naturally" is given in an ancient household notebook and is as follows: "In the early spring, when the sap of the wild grapevine begins to flow, take a bottle to the woods and tie it under an incision made in the vine, through which the sap may drip, and leave it there till it is filled. The same subtle chemistry which curls the tendrils of the vine will act upon the hair and twist it into softer rings than the ubiquitous hot iron or any of the patent curlers of the day. The sap should be allowed to ferment all it will before it is corked. When ready for use it should be rubbed into the hair with a soft sponge."

WHY IS SUGAR SWEET?

If sugar did not dissolve in the mouth you could not taste the sweet? GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is as strong as the strongest bitter tonic, but you do not taste the bitter because the ingredients do not dissolve in the mouth, but do dissolve readily in the acids of the stomach. Is just as good for Grown People as for Children. The First and Original Tasteless Chill Tonic. The Standard for 30 years. Price 50 cents.

STOP WOMAN AND CONSIDER

First, that almost every operation in our hospitals, performed upon women, becomes necessary because of neglect of such symptoms as Backache, Irregularities, Displacements, Pain in the Side, Dragging Sensations, Dizziness and Sleeplessness.

Second, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has cured more cases of female ills than any other one medicine known. It regulates, strengthens and restores women's health and is invaluable in preparing women for child-birth and during the period of Change of Life.

Third, the great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time being published by special permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

For more than 30 years has been curing Female Complaints, such as Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and Organic Diseases, and it dissolves and expels Tumors at an early stage.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law, Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Thus she is especially well qualified to guide sick women back to health. Write today, don't wait until too late.

HOW THE RAIN CAME.

A Terrifying Event to a Stranger In the Philippines.

For a real lively matinee performance the coming of the rainy season in the Philippines has no end of right to be considered.

This is the experience of one woman who supposedly arrived during the dry season:

Seated at her window she could hear a roaring tattoo in the grove of abaca palms to the south. The noise neared, rose, thundered.

Long, lithe cocoanuts began an inexplicable bending to and fro, their tops circling in trembling descent almost to the earth, then swinging back to the spring of the bow tense trunks in a movement exaggerated and violent, like that of some stage tempest.

Ont in the grove, beaten, trampled down, there advanced into the open a black wall of rain, perpendicular from earth to sky. Ahead of it dust, twigs, rubbish, suddenly ascended to heaven in rotary spirals. Trees were flayed of their leaves. Roofs flew up like gigantic bats.

Then her own house, strongly built, shook as with earthquake. The thatch of the roof sprang vertical, like that stiffens with fear, and between the interstices she saw the muddy sky stream by.

A powder of debris, of dry rot, snowed. Down upon the table, the books, the chairs, little lizards, unperched, struck the floor with a squeak like that of a mechanical doll, remained as dead for a long minute, then scampered across the room and up the walls again. Great black spiders, centipeds, scorpions, fell; sometimes a large rat.

Then the nipa clicked back to position as a box is shut. Breathless silence, a heavy immobility, petrified the world. There came three or four detached, resounding raps upon the roof, and suddenly a furious roaring beating as of stones coming down, great stones chuted in thousands, in millions, and the church, the plaza, the mountain, the whole land, disappeared in a yellow swirl of water.—McClure's Magazine.

Sorrows of an Artist.

A first class journeyman tailor who is both sensitive and ambitious must have more than his share of sadness and heartache. The completeness with which he is ignored by those who are made happy by his workmanship cannot fail to cause him mental agony. The bosses know him and appreciate his work, and so do his fellow craftsmen, but that is all. Beyond them he is unknown, unthought of. His work goes out into the world to delight and to be admired, but it brings to him neither fame nor praise. He is no more thought of or considered by those who wear with pride a garment he made than the sheep is from whose back the wool was sheared that went to its making.—American Tailor and

Figs and Dates.

It is a good plan to wash figs and dates before giving them to children, or, for that matter, to any one. Their sweetness attracts insects, and their stickiness makes them a perfect home for dust and its undesirable germs. Yet most people seem never to think of this at all. Washing will not impair the flavor. On the contrary, it makes them more agreeable to the sight and touch as well as to the taste.

Versatile.

"It was as much as I could do to keep from laughing when Miss Guscher remarked that her fiance was 'so versatile.'"

"Meaning Dumley? Well, he is rather versatile."

"Nonsense! He's a regular idiot."

"Yes, but he's so many different kinds of an idiot."—Philadelphia Press.

Toughening Up.

They told the youngster to soak his feet in a tub of salt water if he wanted to toughen them. He soaked his hands too. "It's pretty near time for me to get a licking," he explained. "Tomorrow I'm going to sit in it."—New York Sun.

Matrimonial.

Three Germans were sitting at luncheon recently and were overheard discussing the second marriage of a mutual friend when one of them remarked:

"I'll tell you vhat. A man vhat marries de second time don't deserve to have lost his first vhife."—Life.

RULES GOVERNING THE CONTEST. READ THEM CAREFULLY:

A.—All subscriptions must be received at the regular published rate. No discounts or commussions whatever will be allowed.

B.—No subscriptions will be received for a less time than three months.

C—Every subscription sent in under this offer must be a bone-fide new subscription to The Morning Star. No others will be received, and a careful investigation will be made to determine whether or not the name sent in is a new subscriber.

D.—Cash must accompany all orders.

E.—All that is necessary to win any of the trips enumerated above is that the subscriptions sent in shall aggregate the amounts named. Orders need not be for yearly subscriptions only. In securing subscriptions the following ratio may be observed: Two six-months' subscriptions are equivalent to one yearly subscription; four three months' subscriptions are equivalent to one yearly subscription.

F—The names of new subscribers, and the amounts collected, should be sent in as soon as obtained. Receipts will be forwarded to the subscribers at once, and the amount placed to the credit of the contestant.

G.—This exceptional offer will remain open to all until September 1, 1907. If you get to work at once there is time a plenty for you to secure one of the best trips. You may visit the Exposition any time you please.

MR. JAS. C. STEWART ELECTED.

On Board of Managers of J. W. M. Hospital—Meeting Yesterday.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Managers of the James Walker Memorial Hospital yesterday afternoon, Mr. Jas. C. Stewart was elected a member of the Board, vice Mr. Chas. W. Worth, resigned on account of a press of business engagements. While the resignation of Mr. Worth is received with regret, it is well to know that a man of Mr. Stewart's capabilities has been enlisted as his successor. Mr. Stewart is a leading member and officer of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and has always taken an active interest in religious and charitable enterprises.

At the meeting yesterday afternoon the Managers returned their sincere thanks to the Ministering Circle of the King's Daughters for adding the splendid ex-ray machine to the appliances at the hospital and to the Hospital Circle for valuable sterelizing apparatus furnished for the operating room. Monday evening the graduating exer-es of the training school for nurses take place, the class this year ring six. There will then be six and the Managers and su-nt will endeavor to fill these tions that may be for-time.

HILL ON RAILROADS.

Their Credit Destroyed Government Will Have to Help.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, June 13.—That the National government will be forced to lend its credit to finance the needs of the railroads of the country, was the statement made by James J. Hill, in an inview today. "The public in its exasperations," said Mr. Hill, "will demand that the railroads shall lay certain rails and provide more cars. The railroads will answer that they cannot; that their credit has been ruined. The government will be obliged to step in and lend its credit to supply this deficiency. The situation might lead to government ownership of railroads. That will be the end of republican government.

"The cause of the trouble is that the business of the United States has outgrown the capacity of its railroads, and the railroads are in no position to catch up. If men cannot get their freight moved they must cease to produce it. It does not appear any easier for a railroad to get money now than it was a few months ago. I know of an instance in Western cities where short term notes of some eastern roads are being peddled around in $5,000 lots on a 6 1-2 to 7 1-2 per cent. basis. Railroads cannot increase their facilities under these conditions.

"During the past seven or eight months, the railroads have raised something like $300,000,000. Has it gone to increase facilities? Not at all; most of it went to pay off old bills."

Concerning the general business outlook, Mr. Hill said:

"There is a general slowing up in business. It appeared inevitable last Fall; it came and I believe it will continue. I don't think it will hurt anybody, but that it exists there is no doubt."

At Union, S. C., yesterday the jury in the case of Lucy Lipsey, a negress who some months ago created a sensation by entering the office of Dr. Will L. Linder and shooting him while his back was turned, found the woman guilty of assault with intent to kill. Sentence was deferred. The defense was temporary insanity.

POLITICAL SPIES.

They Are Quite Common All Over the Continent of Europe.

On the continent of Europe it is quite a common thing for royal personages to be subjected to espionage, mainly, of course, for political reasons.

In France, Spain, Russia, Germany and Austria the practice obtains. At one time during the reign of Napoleon III. a small army of political spies was engaged in watching royal subjects. In fact, the vigilance of the different parties was so great that there were three or four distinct secret services. The emperor had his; the empress had hers; the government and the republicans respectively had theirs—all employed to watch the other parties and their spies.

Moreover, Bismarck had his spy over the emperor. So that France was overridden by spies, the most important, however, being Bismarck's, to whom the war was indeed to a great extent due.

This secret service agent was a German doctor, whose advice the unfortunate emperor even preferred to that of his own court physicians, and thus Bismarck knew even better than Napoleon the real state of the latter's health, which was, of course, a very important factor in the political situation at those times.—Pearson's Weekly.

He Could Run.

He could run, all right, all right. He had to. Talk about your amatoors that spring for sport—this party had learned to run or starve, as a boy, an' had never forgot how. Why, say, when he tore hisself loose from a vicinity it seemed like the whole landscape was crippled. I used to try him out by givin' him a start an' shootin' at him. If he beat the bullet, we figgered he was up to form, but if the lead overtook him we'd call it an off day an' unload the cartridges. I've seen him scare a jack rabbit up till it was workin' under forced drafts, then limp up to it from behind an' kind of yawn an' stretch, an' then goad it to wake up or else get off the trail an' let somebody run that knowed how.—McClure's Magazine.

Oh, Yes, of Course.

Of the many children and women in Nazareth, Palestine, who have picked up a little English all have a way of saying "of course" instead of a simple "yes." The expression which French people catch up as characteristic of the American and Englishman is always "Oh, yes!" A correspondent, who has cycled down the Rhone valley, about Provence and along the Riviera, found himself greeted with "Oh, yes!" by the children in the streets of nearly every town. And he discovered when his attention had been called to the point in this way that "Oh, yes!" was really what he and his companions were always saying.

His Business.

The lady in black pointed toward the sky.

"My husband," she sighed, "is up there, but he is looking down. Perps he sees all that we do."

"How long has he been dead, ?" we inquired gently.

PLIGHT OF THE ACTOR.

Behind the Scenes He Is, In a Manner, a Prisoner.

In a way, behind the scenes is a prison. It is surely one of the very few places where intelligent men and women are locked in their place of work and where no message from the outside world is allowed to reach them. There is a tradition that actor folk are of unusually emotional temperament, and if therefore a telegram is received at the stage door it is never delivered until after the performance. The message might be an invitation to supper, or it might announce that the actor's favorite brother has been hanged, or it might be an offer in a stock company to play twelve times a week, or it might tell the actor that he was the father of twins or that his wife would die without seeing him again unless he came at once to her bedside, but all of this information is supposed not to be good for the actor's emotional disposition, and the telegram is therefore given the same distinction as the "mash" note and kept until after the performance is finished. It cannot be said that the actor's emotional disposition is very seriously considered beyond the cast iron rule in regard to telegrams. His comfort and intelligence have been slightly flattered in a few theaters of very recent date, but for the most part the condition of behind the scenes in most playhouses is not calculated to breed particularly high thoughts of any kind. As a matter of fact, he is treated little better than when he was only a "strolling" player—a gypsy—several centuries ago.—Charles Belmont Davis in Outing Magazine.

"PLUG" TOBACCO.

In the jury room at the courthouse a few days ago an old time farmer said as he took a chew of tobacco:

"All the difference in the world in tobacco. I've tried twenty different kinds, and none is as good as that we used to make ourselves down on the farm. We would take a maple log while 'twas green and bore a dozen holes in it with a two inch auger. They were our molds. We selected our choicest tobacco and soaked it for a week or more in wild honey. Then we'd take the leaf to the log, get a good hickory tamping stick and go to work.

"A little ball of the honey soaked tobacco would be put in the auger hole and tamped in with the stick and a hammer. We'd pound it in solid. Ball after ball would be rammed in and pounded until the whole became a solid plug. When the hole was nearly full, we would pound in the plug, and then the log would be put away to season. As the wood dried the moisture would be drawn from the tobacco. And when it was split the sweetest tobacco ever made was taken from it. We called it 'plug' tobacco, and that's where the name originated."—Kansas City Star.

Cat Laughter?

What was the origin of the phrase "Enough to make a cat laugh?" Dr. Murray's Dictionary notices only "Enough to make a cat speak," which is explained as signifying something extraordinary, especially something very good to drink. "Old liquor able to make a cat speak" is quoted from an early eighteenth century source, and therewith Stephano's remark to Caliban is compared, "Open your mouth; here is that which will give language to you, cat." Miss Squeers' maidservant said that only to see Miss Squeers' friend, Miss Price, toss her head was "enough to make a tomcat talk French grammar." But even that is not exactly laughing. Has it anything to do with the mythical Cheshire animal?—London Chronicle.

Dress In Old Massachusetts.

There was an ancient law in Massachusetts that ladies' dresses should be made long enough to hide their shoe buckles. In 1660 an act of the general court prohibited short sleeves and required garments to be lengthened so as to cover the arms to the wrists and gowns to the shoe buckles; "immoderate great breeches, knots of ribbon, broad shoulder bands, and they be, silk roses, double ruffs and cuffs" were forbidden. In the same colony, in 1653, I. Fairbanks was tried for wearing great boots, but was acquitted.

The Early Worm.

Entertaining a children's party at a certain millionaire's house in New York, a woman professional teller of stories to juveniles happened to employ the old proverb, "The early bird catches the worm." A little boy questioned the proverb promptly. "But wasn't the worm foolish," he asked, "to get up early and be caught?" "My dear," said the story teller, "that worm hadn't been to bed at all. He was just getting home."

Girl Friends.

Nell — Did you tell her I couldn't come? Belle—Yes, and she seemed surprised. Nell—But didn't you explain to her that I've got the chickenpox? Belle—Yes; that's what surprised her. She said you were no chicken. —Catholic Standard and Times.

LATE SENATOR JOHN T. MORGAN

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 13.—The body of United States Senator John Tyler Morgan, who died in this city Tuesday night, will leave here tonight at 11 o'clock for the Senator's late home in Selma, where the funeral will take place Saturday at noon. The body was taken in a special car in charge of B. W. Leighton, of the sergeant-at-arms' office of the Senate, and Colonel Edwin H. Pierce, deputy sergeant-at-arms of the House, and was accompanied by Misses Mary and Cornelia Morgan, the Senator's two daughters, United States Senators E. W. Pettus, of Alabama and Lee S. Overman, of North Carolina, and Mr. J. O. Jones, Senator Morgan's private secretary. The other members of the Senate and House committees appointed by the Vice President and the Speaker to attend the funeral will go direct to Selma. Vice President Fairbanks has also notified Senator Pettus that he will join the Congressional party in Selma Saturday morning.

Many messages of sympathy from every section of the country have been received at the Morgan home today. Among the many floral offerings received is a wreath of unusual size and remarkable beauty, which was sent by the President and Mrs. Roosevelt. The Senator's body will arrive in Selma at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and will lie in state until the hour of the funeral, and the burial will follow immediately. Governor Comer and other Alabama officials will attend the funeral and all business will be suspended in Selma until after the interment. Immediately after the service the special car carrying the Congressional party will return to Washington.

HAVE TO DO OWN SWITCHING.

Important Complaint to Interstate Commerce Commission.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, June 13.—A complaint, of general interest and importance was filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission. It involves the payment of switching charges by railroads where the work is done by the shipper. The case is that of the General Electric Company and the Edison General Electric Company, of Schenectady, N. Y., against the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad, and the Delaware and Hudson Company. The complainants allege that they do a business aggregating $35,000,000 annually; that they employ 15,000 men at Schenectady; that they have a plant covering 135 acres, on which are located 100 buildings, and that it requires 50,000 cars annually to carry their freight business. Because of the refusal of the defendant lines to afford them facilities for the switching, placing and loading and unloading of the cars, facilities ordinarily supplied by common carriers to shippers, they are obliged to supply these facilities in the way of locomotives, tracks, fuel and labor, themselves at great expense. It is alleged that last year the complainants paid out $134,609 in charges of this kind. They ask the Commission to issue an order requiring the defendant lines to pay them a just and reasonable amount for the charges properly belonging to the carrying lines.

SOUTHERN HARDWARE JOBBERS.

Editor Wise, of Chattanooga Tradesman, Delivers Address.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Richmond, Va., June 13.—The Southern Hardware Jobbers' Association practically concluded business today by the election of officers. They are John Donnan, of Richmond, president; W. L. Sanford, of Sherman, Tex., first vice president; Henry Miller, of Memphis, second vice president; O. B. Barker, of Lynchburg, Va., Bruce Keener, of Knoxville, Tenn., and Charles H. Ireland, of Greensboro, N. C., members of the executive committee.

At a joint session with the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association, Harry Wise, of the Chattanooga Tradesman, delivered an address on the "Future Outlook of the South."

WARM WIRELETS.

At Portsmouth, England, yesterday Lieutenant Hart, of the Royal navy, was killed and three sailors were injured by an explosion of gasoline on board a submarine boat. The submarine was a vessel of the latest type and was maneuvering in the harbor when the explosion, caused by an accummulation of gas, occurred.

August Meyer, a well-to-do shoe dealer of Brooklyn, N. Y., was so severely beaten by highwaymen yesterday that he died a few hours later. One of the alleged assailants, Nicholas Fennimore, a youth of 20 years, is under arrest. Two others escaped. Meyer fought hard but his assailants were too much for him and he was terribly beaten before his cries for help brought a policeman to his assistance.

Near Lancaster, Pa., yesterday portions of a man's body were found scattered along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. When the Philadelphia accommodation train arrived at Christiana it was found that brakes were not working properly and an investigation disclosed parts of a man's body and clothing wedged in the rigging. Papers found on the body bore the name of J. B. Quinn, Richmond, Va.

There was a collision at the Norfolk navy yard yesterday between the United States torpedo boats Whipple and Blakely, in which the Whipple rammed the Blakely, cutting completely into the after fireroom, driving the Blakely against the sea wall and flattening in her bow. The Whipple was not injured. The accident due to error in engine room, going ahead at full speed when signalled to back. The vessels were placed in the dry

His Hour of Triumph

By SIDNEY AYRES

Copyright, 1906, by C. H. Sutcliffe

It was an interstate contest and 15,000 spectators had assembled to witness the foot race, the long jump, the high jump, the throwing of the hammer and other feats of agility and strength. Among them were Edith Lawson and Isabel Daws, who had arrived upon the grounds escorted by Edith's brother Dick, but he had left them to speak to one of the athletes and had disappeared. This incident had put the usually smiling and amiable Edith out of temper, and long before the first trial on the programme had been called she was in a captious mood and wishing she had not come. Miss Daws, on the contrary, was all enthusiasm and anticipation, and her exclamations finally brought forth the remark from Edith:

"What a stupid thing to waste our time over. These so called athletes ought to be put to sawing wood and made to earn an honest living. Look at that one swelling around as if he had saved a dozen human lives!"

"Why, that's Tommy Hope," was Isabel's reply. "If I only dared, I'd call him over here and introduce myself. He's just one of the nicest fel"—

"If he isn't a bully then I never saw one!" interrupted Edith. "See him swagger as he walks. If he was introduced to me I'd snub him good and well."

"Why, Edith Lawson! Tommy Hope is the champion high jumper and runner, and they say that he is the best boxer in college this year. His folks are among the most"—

"Respectable of saloon keepers, probably," sneered the pretty girl. "So he's a prize fighter with all the rest. Nice company we are in."

Miss Daws was about to protest and argue further when the high jumpers were called. There was a field of eight, and each and every one of them was cheered as he took his place.

"Eight of them," observed Miss Daws after counting, "but none of them will stand a show against Tommy Hope. You will see him sail over the highest bar like a bird."

"But any well trained horse could do the same thing," was Edith's reply. "He'd better be sailing into some honest work, but he'll never do that as long as the people will crowd to see these shows. If I had brother Dick here I'd box his ears."

"Get ready to clap your hands, Edith. There he goes!"

"I won't even look."

Tommy Hope took the run and the jump and cleared the bar that had brought others to grief. In return the crowd raised a mighty cheer. The applause lasted five minutes, but Edith Lawson didn't join in.

During the next half hour she criticised the crowd and berated her brother, and her friend realized that she was in a pet, so diplomatically left her alone. Then the running race was called, and Miss Daws' suppressed enthusiasm burst forth again.

"It will be Tommy—our Tommy—again!" she exclaimed in her excitement. "Oh, Edith, how sorry I am that you can't appreciate athletics as the rest of us do. You see, men are made strong, agile and muscular by this training. Suppose that our Tommy had to run for his life?"

"He would if offered a job at a dollar a day," replied Edith.

"What a girl you are! But there goes the bell. Now they are taking their places. Now the signal is to be given. Now— Go it, Tommy, go it! Oh, Edith, Tommy is gaining—he is creeping up—he is leading! O-o-o-h, such sprinting! Tommy will win! He has won!"

"And I am going home."

Some folks are built that way, even some young ladies, and the only way is to let them hug their theories until circumstances arise to change their opinion. One could not have safely predicted that such circumstances would ever arise in the life of Edith Lawson, but fate is more powerful than man.

Within a month she was speeding westward in reply to an invitation from an aunt whose favorite she was, and, more than that, she was traveling alone. Though unchaperoned, she was not a lone passenger in the drawing room car that whirled her across the prairies. Opposite her sat a young man whose appearance pleased her at first sight. That he was a gentleman she immediately decided. He made no opportunity to speak to her. There were six or eight other passengers, all more or less sociable, and, in one way and another, all but the young man came to make the acquaintance of Miss Lawson before the first day of the journey ended.

After the very first glance at the young man the girl was puzzled. She felt sure she had seen him before, and she cudgeled her brains in vain to remember where and when. This impression grew stronger whenever she stole a glance at him, and by and by she was much vexed at herself for her failure to recall him. If the truth was known, she was a bit vexed with him as well. If he wanted an introduction he could have had it easy enough, and that he didn't rush to secure it rather piqued her.

Next morning after breakfast a tough looking fellow, who was riding in style for the first time in his life, entered the car and a few minutes later was ogling Miss Lawson and making himself obnoxious. The young man opposite politely requested the flashy youth to desist and was promptly consigned to a climate that is hotter than this. He didn't go. He simply took the disturber by the neck and dragged him into the smoking car and flung him into a seat with a bang. That was the last of the disturber. He didn't like the atmosphere of a drawing room car. Miss Lawson would have thanked the stranger, but he gave her no opportunity. He simply returned to his seat and resumed his reading as if nothing had happened.

That evening as the passengers left the eating house where they had had "twenty minutes for dinner" a cowboy with a couple of guns belted about him and too much liquor within him freshly halted Miss Lawson and pretended to recognize her as a Miss Thompson. It was a lamentable failure. He was picked up some way, somehow, and dropped off the platform, and the young man who did it never even looked back to see if there was to be any shooting. He might have been thanked again if he hadn't been so busy with his own affairs.

Things were coming to a head, however. At midnight that night the train was held up at a water tank. There were five in the party of ruffians, and three of them entered the sleepers and commanded passengers to "shell out." The command was promptly obeyed in the first two cars, but the man who started to work the trick in the Idaho ran up against a snag. The reserved young man brought out a gun and did some shooting. He went outside and did some more. In fact, led by him, the passengers rallied and killed two robbers and drove the others into the woods. Miss Edith Lawson was one of the many passengers who offered her hand in congratulation, and thus it came about that the two finally introduced themselves. When the stranger said that his name was Benny Hope, but that the public insisted on calling him Tommy, the girl flushed up and exclaimed:

"Why—why, there was a Tommy Hope at the interstate meet of athletes six weeks ago!"

"Yes, I was there."

"And you j-jumped?"

"I jumped, Miss Lawson."

"And you—you sprinted?"

"I sprinted. Did you happen to be there in person?"

"Y-yes, and I told my chum, Isabel Daws, that I hated athletes. I—I said that an old horse could beat you all at running or jumping and that you—you"—

"That I ought to be sawing wood, perhaps?" he laughed. "Well, I shan't hold it against you."

And he didn't. If he had, how could they be engaged at the present time, as announced in the society columns? It is more than likely also that Miss Edith has changed her opinions and is a warm champion of the "cause."

How Williams Got a Gift.

In the last century there lived in a western village a gentle old man subsisting on a meager salary. One day he learned that his brother had died in San Francisco and left him a fortune of many millions. The transition was staggering, especially so since it was followed by a shower of appeals for money from every quarter of the globe and from persons known and unknown to him.

His son, who acted as his secretary, noticed with regret that the father seemed unable to grasp the meaning of his new power and was glad to have him at last evince a little interest in one of his begging letters. It proved to be from Williams college, asking an endowment on the plea that the old man's birthplace was near the institution.

"I'd like to do something for that school," said he meditatively.

"Well, I would, father, if I were you," his son encouraged him.

"I believe I will." The old man's ardor kindled. "I believe I'll give them something handsome."

"So you should," the son pursued. "Why not?"

"I will. I'll give them"—he thought for a moment—"I'll give them $100!"—Boston Herald.

Safer.

"Do you think a flying machine would be safer than the ordinary means of exploring the arctic regions?"

"Much safer," answered the inventor. "It would be likely to break down before the party got as far as usual from civilization."—Washington Star.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—The Ashboro Courier tells of a man living in the county who has a black cat, which has four kittens, one of which has a head, ears and tail like a rabbit, but feet and claws like a kitten.

—Sampson Democrat: A farmer the other day stated that many partridge nests were broken up, and the eggs and birds eaten by bird dogs that are allowed to run about. He said that some dogs actually go around scenting for the nests.

—Sampson Democrat: Captain E. W. Kerr walked down town by the aid of his crutches last Saturday for the first time since his fall. The disabled limb appears to be in good shape and it is likely that he will soon lay his crutches aside and be as whole as ever. We hope so. He is now coming down whenever he feels like it.

—Sampson Democrat: Mr. Lloyd McLamb of Honeycutts was passing along the road on a Sunday not long since when he discovered three chicken hawks up in the air engaged in a free for all fight. Two of them became so entangled that they could not fly, and fell to the ground. Mr. McLamb ran to them and killed them both.

—Mount Olive Tribune, June 13: A young negro man by the name of Tobe Wilson was arrested here yesterday and carried to Goldsboro last night, where he is wanted as an accomplice in the murder of an old colored woman, Mary Cooper, in that city several months ago. The negro was arested by offifficer Ed. Kornegay, but gave that gentleman and others quite a chase before he was finally captured in the woods back of the Graded School building.

—Sampson Democrat: One morning during the month of May, Mr. Lewis A. Parsons, of Westbrooks, discovered that a fox had carried off during the night 18 of his spring chickens, and also four goslins. The tracks were plainly evident where the old marauder would come and go with its prey. A day or so thereafter Mr. Parsons went out in search of a den of young ones that had been receiving their supply of meat from his poultry yard, and sure enough found a den in a hollow log near his home with five young foxes in it. Of course he made way with them, though he kept them for a few days as prisoners of war.

—Sampson Democrat: The dwelling and kitchen of Mr. D. C. Owen of McDaniels township, together with the contents of both, were destroyed by fire about 4 o'clock on last Monday morning. Everything in the way of clothing, furniture, etc., being destroyed, and with but light insurance on the property, which makes the loss hard for them to bear. One member of the family awoke at this hour, being stifled with smoke, and upon looking out discovered the kitchen on fire. The cause is not known. Something might have been saved but for the fact that the family was engaged in removing from the burning building Mr. Owen's mother, who is 84, and had been sivk for some time.

—Kenansville News: On last Wednesday afternoon a severe hail, wind and rain storm passed over a section of Warsaw and Kenansville townships and did a great deal of damage to growing crops. Cotton, corn and tobacco was damaged a great deal and on some farms these crops suffered almost complete destruction. We regret to note such a calamity to our people, but the News feels very glad that it is early in the season as other crops can yet be planted. The hail covered a strip of about one mile in width and extended from South of Lanefield across the "Buckskin" section on the north. In the Eastern part of the county, the hail covered the North East river and did considerable damage.

Desire to Correspond.

A young lady, eighteen, brown eyes, light shade red hair, fair complexion, weight 115, five feet three inches in height, wears No. 3 shoe, can swim, row a boat and shoot fairly well, reasonable education, wishes to correspond with a refined gentleman with a view to matrimony. Would prefer that he be between 21 and 40 years of age, of medium weight, good cheerful disposition and such circumstances as will allow of a comfortable living. Can assure you all the pleasures of a refined home, having just become the owner of a New Scale $400 Ludden & Bates piano, which was sold to me as a club member at $287 on easy payments. With this am sure home will be happy and prosperous. Address Ellen B., 121 Princess Street, Wilmington, N. C. jun 13-2t

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Mansell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 30 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 13.—The cotton market was rather irregular during today's session, but showed steadiness in the afternoon and closed steady at a decline of one point to an advance of 6 points. Sales for the day fere estimated at 300,000 bales. The opening was steady at a decline of 3 to 7 points and shortly after the call the market showed net loss of 13 points on July and of 6 to 8 points on the active new crop months under liquidation and pressure from local bears who were encouraged by favorable weather reports and easier cables. At the decline some of the larger profes sionals became buyers, smaller shorts covered and in the later session some fresh buying for long account was attracted by private reports claiming damage from boll weevil in Texas and parts of Louisiana with prices at one time showing net gains of about 6 to 9 points on the active new crop positions while July rallied to last night's close. In the last few minutes prices eased off a little under realizing but July was the only month to show a net loss at the close. Rumors that a prominent manufacturer had purchased all the print cloths available in the Fall River market had some influence during the early afternoon but it was learned late this was actually an old trainsaction and without fresh significance. Aside from the reports of insect damage in the southern private crop reports were not numerous and the local trade seemed to believe that the better weather was causing some improvement in the outlook. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-8 lower.

Receipts at the ports today 8,223 bales against 3,334 last week and 5,489 last year. For the week 30,000 bales against 29,843 last week and 29,770 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 1,671 bales against 2,385 last year, and at Houston 160 bales against 739 last year.

Remarkable Rescue.

That truth is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat, Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Then instant relief came. The coughing soon ceased; the bleding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c and $1.00 at R. R. He Fired the Stick.

"I have fired the walking-stick I've carried over 40 years, on account of a sore that resisted every kind of treatment, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve; that has healed the sore and made me a happy man," writes John Garrett, of North Mills, N. Too many people look down on small beginnings.

They think they will open a Savings Account when they get a hundred dollars. We have seen a good many more substantial savings develop from a start of $1 and DETERMINATION to get ahead, than from a hundred dollar start without determination.

ORCHARD WAILED UNDER LASHING

Haywood's Attorneys at Boise, Idaho, Bring Tears to Monsteris Eyes.

E PROFEESED REPENTANCE

Orchard Declared That He Committed His Crimes As An Atheist, But Now Believes There is A Merciful God.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Boise, Idaho, June 13.—The men who are battling to save the life of William D. Haywood and the good name of the Western Federation of Miners today made their greatest assault upon Harry Orchard when, carrying the review of cross-examination of his life of crime down to his confession, they bitterly assailed his guiding motives. Six days they spent in stripping him before the jury of every shred of morality, and then suddenly turning upon him in final fierce attack, they fought with every means known to the legal craft to convince the jury that Orchard was committing a crime in falsely swearing away the lives of innocent men in the hope of saving his own. They carried their attack to the very language with which the witness answered their questions and everywhere they alleged by forceful implication that it was put into his mouth by men controlling him.

This series of quickly delivered attacks gave to the trial amid the scenes centering around the high witness chair in Judge Wood's court a depth of dramatic interest that gripped and set every man and woman who watched and listened, Orchard wailed, when they recited to him the tale of David and Uriah, that Detective McPartland related to him when he came seeking a confession. He fought to save himself, but tears filled his eyes and he rocked unevenly like a fainting woman. His voice lowered to huskiness and he hid his face in a handkerchief.

Then he steadied himself and went on strongly to the end. He defended his motives by saying that he had finally experienced conversion and penitence and had resolved to make all possible reparation by a free confession. McPartland had told him that he was doing a great service for the State and that States were kind to men who served them. There was no other promise.

"You knew that if you confessed to the Steunenberg murder the State would put you out of the way?" hammered Attorney Richardson.

"Yes, sir."

"And would do it quickly?"

"I believed they would put me out of the way."

"But somewhere along the line the thought came to you that you could get out of it by laying it onto somebody else?"

"No, sir; that was not the thought at all."

And here Orchard gave a remarkable explanation of the motive that impelled him to confess. His voice fell to a low tone, but there was no other show of emotion. Complete silence gave every word to the entire room. The whiz of an electric fan overhead was the sole accompaniment of the recitation.

"I thought," he said, "of putting myself out of the way, but I thought over my past life. I did not believe in a hereafter at all, but I was afraid to die and I thought at times that I had been such an unnatural monster—my crimes had been so great—that I would not be forgiven."

"Who told you?"

"No one."

"Who wrote that out for you?"

"No one, but after I had been sent a Bible and had read it some, I came to the conclusion that I would be forgiven if I made confession of everything. I began to think that the grave did not end everything and I made up my mind to tell the truth about the whole thing."

"So you thought you would make your peace with the future by having somebody else hung, did you?" asked Mr. Richardson.

"No, sir. I think any man can make his peace with the future if he wants to. I believed it was my duty to tell the truth. I did not see any other way, regardless of the consequences to myself or anybody else. I owed it to society, I owed it to God and to myself."

The defense suggested that if Orchard didn't get the reference to his duty to society, God and himself directly from McPartland or any other person, it was suggested to him by the oath he took when he joined the Western Federation of Miners. They read him the oath from the ritual, but when they did he expressed the belief that the language had been given to him by the Almighty.

For hours the defense hammered at the motive of saving his own life. They sought to show it in the force of example drawn from the immunity of informers in the Mollie McGuire cases, but this the witness would not admit. Next they sought for it in Orchard's effort to bring Steve Adams to the State and then in the subsequent meetings with McPartland and Governor Gooding. Once again they emphasized the fact that the witness had twice written his testimony out, but Orchard repelled the suggestion that it had been changed by McPartland, Attorney Hawley or anybody else.

After that it was suggested that Orchard had placed his future in the keeping of McPartland; that the Pinkertons had sent men to his family in Canada; that he had been supplied with data to strengthen his story and that McPartland had trained him as a stage manager, for his appearance on the stand. But all this Orchard denied.

THE TRAGEDY IN HAMPTON ROADS

Body of Coxswain Dodson Recovered Floating in Water in Bay Yesterday.

THE INQUIRY TO BEGIN

Supervisor Uhler, of Steamboat Inspection Service, is After Details of Craft in Harbor on Night of Catastrophe—Other Notes.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Norfolk, Va., June 13.—The body of Coxswain Robert H. Dodson, of the battleship Minnesota's ill-fated launch which with its eleven occupants six midshipmen and five seamen went to the bottom of Hampton Roads in the darkness of Tuesday night, was found floating in the Roads today and tonight reports were circulated but almost immediately denied that the other bodies had been recovered. An orderly from one of the ships of the Atlantic fleet stated at Old Point Comfort that the bodies of the other ten men drowned had been taken to the Norfolk navy yard. Admiral Thomas of the fleet, however, sends a wireless message to shore denying that the bodies had been found and a similar denial was made at the navy yard.

It now seems to be accepted in naval circles that the little launch was run down by a coal barge shortly after the frail boat carrying the eleven men left Discovery Landing. It was learned here today that Commodore William H. Evans' yacht, the Chilhewee, with a party of Baltimoreans on board, was anchored off the exposition grounds a short distance from where the accident is thought to have happened, and, according to members of the party cries of the drowning midshipmen and sailors were heard coming over the water, though the party at that time believed that the noises were made by jubilant parties returning from the army and navy ball.

Admiral Emory will, as soon as some tangible evidence is found that the launch was run down by a coal barge, call the regular court of inquiry required by the naval regulations and a thorough investigation will be made. The sessions of the court of inquiry will convene on one of the battleships now in Hampton Roads. The federal steamboat inspectors are investigating.

United States Supervising Inspector of Steam Vessels Uhler arrived from Washington today and in company with Colonel Oast, supervising inspector for this district, proceeded to Old Point to investigate the loss of the battleship Minnesota's steam launch.

A request has been made upon the officials of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad Company that it advise the department whether any one of its car floats which are accustomed to ply between Norfolk and Cape Charles, was in Hampton Roads about midnight on Monday.

Captain Pedrick, commanding the naptha yacht Marian of Savannah, which is engaged in carrying passengers between Norfolk, Hampton Roads and the Jamestown Exposition grounds, said today that about midnight Monday he saw a tug bound in just about off the deep water pier at Pine Beach and she was towing a car float upon which were a number of freight cars.

SCHDITZ FOUND GUILTY.

First Formal Conviction in San Francisco Graft Cases.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

San Francisco, June 13.—Mayor Eugene Schmitz was tonight found guilty of extorting money from Keepers of French restaurants on this city. This is the first formal conviction in the anti-graft campaign inaugurated several months ago. Abe Ruef, who was indicted after some offenses, pleaded guilty to the charges and appeared as a witness against Schmitz. When the verdict was returned Schmitz sat unmoved with his left hand under his chin. He apparently did not understand and asked Barrett:

"What is it?"

"Guilty," said Barrett.

Schmitz's hand dropped to the table but he showed no other signs of emotion.

Judge Lawter postponed indefinitely the trial of Louis Glass, vice president of the Pacific Telephone Company, indicted for bribery, which was set for next Monday. He announced that all preliminary matters in the gas and trolley cases would be decided before beginning the Glass or other trials, the questions involved in all three being identical.

RUSSIAN SEAMEN MUTINY

Outbreak of Alarming Proportions in Black Sea Fleet.

London, June 13.—A dispatch to a news agency from Sebastopol says that Vice Admiral Wiren, in command of the Black sea fleet, has sifted out and arrested the disaffected seamen at that port and placed six hundred of them on board a cruiser under a strong guard. Additional arrests are being made and it probably will be necessary to fit out another penal cruiser. The seamen of the fleet are exasperated because no charges have been preferred against the arrested men, and it is said that a mutinous outbreak is likely to occur.

On the Philadelphia stock exchange yesterday A. E. Appleyard went short of 20,000 shares of United Gas in a sensational plunge and his insolvency was announced. He was unable to respond to calls for margins after depressing the stock $4 per share. Appleyard has disappeared.

METCALF RETURNS TO WASHINGTON

Secretary of Navy Much Cast Down Over Hampton Roads Calamity.

EVERY CLUE IS FOLLOWED

Secretary Unable to Confirm Rumor That Launch Was Run Down By Tug—Had Eventful Trip to Jamestown.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 13.—After rather an eventful trip down the Potomac through Chesapeake Bay and up the James river, Secretary Metcalf and party returned to Washington at 11 o'clock today. Almost from the first Secretary Metcalf encountered delays. He had planned to leave Washington early Saturday. As a matter of fact the Dolphin did not get away from the navy yard until late in the afternoon, the delay being caused by the non-arrival on schedule time of the railway train which was bringing Mr. and Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt from Asheville. Besides the Vanderbilts, there were aboard, Mrs. Metcalf and Miss Chabot, a friend of the Secretary's family. The Dolphin took part in the naval display of last Monday on the occasion of the President's visit. The following day the party made a trip in the lighthouse tender Maple up the James river to a point thirty miles beyond Jamestown Island, on a visit to some friends in that neighborhood.

Much fog, heavy rains and generally thick weather made the navigation of the tortuous James river difficult and the party was not able to return to the Dolphin, which lay at the mouth of the river, awaiting them until yesterday afternoon when the party trans-shipped from the Maple and came leisurely up the Potomac. The lack of telegraphic communication with Secretary Metcalf from the time he left the Dolphin Tuesday until yesterday afternoon gave rise to many inquiries as to the whereabouts of the party.

Secretary Metcalf was much cast down by the unfortunate accident to the launch of the battleship Minnesota in Hampton Roads during his cruise in that vicinity and of which he first learned when he returned to the Roads from Jamestown Island yesterday. He immediately went aboard the Connecticut to talk it over with Admiral Evans. The admiral also was feeling very keenly the unfortunate termination of what had been a remarkably successful naval pageant.

Secretary Metcalf also paid visits of condolence to the Minnesota and the Iowa, each of which has sustained the loss of some of its officers in the sinking of the launch.

Up to the time the Secretary left Hampton Roads he had been unable to confirm the report that an unknown tug had run over the launch, but government agents are at work following every clue.

SOUTH'S IMMIGRANT STATIONS

Sites to Be Selected in Charleston and Other Cities.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 13.—Commissioner of Immigration Sargent, Alfred B. Fry, chief engineer of government buildings of New York, and Mr. Window, of the supervising architect's office, will leave next Sunday for Galveston, Texas, to determine upon the site of the new immigration station which is to be erected there. They also will visit New Orleans and Charleston to locate the new stations which are to be built in those cities. At its last session Congress appropriated $70,000 for immigration stations in each of the three cities named.

FRANC H. JONES SUBMITS

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Charlotte, N. C., June 13.—In the Federal court here today Franc H. Jones, the defaulting teller of the Charlotte National Bank, to the extent of about $80,000, submitted to three counts in the bill of indictment, namely: Embezzlement, misappropriation of funds, and false entry. Judgment was suspended until next week. The trial of Percy G. Fonville, as an accomplice, is set for Monday next.

MAKES ROOSEVELT WINCE

President Favors Criticism But Not of Him.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Norfolk, Va., June 13.—The National Editorial Association meeting at the Jamestown Exposition spent a large part of today on a pilgrimage to Jamestown Island where they visited the scnes of the original Jamestown settlement. There was some speech making on the boat going and returning from the island.

Last night the National editors held a memorial service for the members who had died during the past year.

One of the most notable papers read before the association was that of Crosby S. Noyes, editor of the Washington Star, whose subject was "Journalism Since Jamestown."

Mr. Noyes declared that President Roosevelt had declared for a free press, ready to criticise, except when it came to criticising him.

President Roosevelt spent a quiet day at Oyster Bay yesterday, arranging the household effects in the Summer home. The only ripple was caused by the appearance of "the woman in blue," who acquired considerable notoriety last year. She is understood to be Mrs. Lucy Lee, of Brooklyn.

Regular Courses leading to degrees of Bachelor of Pedagogy, Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and a new course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Music.

Board, laundry, tuition, and fees for use of text books, etc., $170 a year. For free tuition students, $125.

The Normal Department gives thorough instruction in the subjects taught in the schools and colleges, and special pedagogical training for the profession of teaching. Teachers and Graduates of other colleges are offered a one-year special course in Pedagogy and allied subjects.

The Commercial Department offers practical instruction in Stenography, Typewriting, Book-keeping and other business subjects.

The Departments of Manual Arts and Domestic Science provide instruction in Manual Training and in such subjects as relate directly to the home and family.

The Music Department, in addition to the degree course, offers a certificate course in vocal and instrumental music.

To secure board in the dormitories, all free-tuition applications should be made before July 15. The fall term opens September 18, 1907.

At Home

A prominent business man said a few days ago, "I like to go into THE ATLANTIC NATIONAL BANK; its clerks have a way of making one feel at home."

Do you feel "at home" in your bank—do you feel at liberty to discuss your business affairs with its officers?

Customers of this bank realize that we are here to help them—to furnish a safe place of deposit—to LEND THEM MONEY when needed, and do not hesitate to make their wants known.

What we are doing for many others we want to do for you.
